Return Board Reports
Official Result In
Clearfield CountyBoulton Wins Out Over Reed With a Majority of 22 Votes While The County Gives Tobias 1035

CONTEST LIKELY IN THE CONGRESSIONAL

The official count of the vote cast at last Tuesday's election for member of congress and the legislature was completed by the returning board consisting of Judge Bell, Wm. H. Patterson, Jr., and Joseph R. Chase, this morning and is as follows:

Member of Congress
Charles H. Rowland, R. 5261
William E. Tobias, D. 6291

Member of Legislature
Joseph E. Phillips, R. & W. 5607
Harry Boulton, R. 5175
A. H. Woodward, R. 5079
Green W. Bell, D. 5302
Archer H. Reed, D. 5153
Ed. C. Bauman, D. 5034

There were eight soldier votes received so far and of these seven voted for Hughes and one for Wilson. The tickets prepared for the soldiers in the field made no provision for a straight ticket vote due entirely to the fact that it would have been a great deal of expense and trouble to print the names of district and county candidates on the ballot for the voters from the different counties. Under the ticket as prepared the Presidential electors were grouped and printed as well as the state tickets, but the voter was required to write in the name of the candidates for congress and legislature. The soldier boys were evidently poorly informed as to local conditions because but one of the state tickets was given. Mr. Rowland gained that one vote, while three voted for legislative candidates Joe Phillips being favored by all of them, while Woodward and Boulton got but two votes.

There are more than one hundred soldier votes yet to be recorded in this congressional district, seventy of these belonging to Major Theodore Boal's machine gun company from Boalsburg, Centre county, and the other thirty being members of Troop L. of Bellefonte.

Without this soldier vote Rowland leads Tobias about 57 votes in the district, and a contest is quite likely.

Republican Rooster Ends his Life
While Democratic Biddy Cackles

The result of Tuesday's election had a peculiar effect on even the chickens down in the Fourth Ward, and the neighbors living along Dorey Street are led to believe that their self same chickens knew about the election but were greatly interested in the result, as the following facts would lead one to suppose. Leslie Hopper, who lives at the Corner of Dorey and Seventh streets, has a prized Orpington hen, which was on especially friendly terms with a big rooster belonging to Otis Knepp, who lives a few doors below Seventh street, on Dorey. The rooster and biddy were in each other's company, a great deal the last two weeks and attracted the attention of the women folks down that way with their daily chatter, which all now say was undoubtedly an argument on the respective merits of the rival candidates, for the Presidency, because on Thursday morning when all doubt as to who had been elected was settled by the news from California, Hopper's old hen beat it out of the pen and down came the biddy, to where Knepp's old rooster was lordling it over his two score wives. Biddy ran up to the rooster and after a few "cut, cut's" or chuckles in chicken dialect, flopped her wings and let out a crow which startled every occupant of the barn yard. This was followed by a second, and a third shrill cry of victory.

The old rooster which had no doubt imbibed his Republicanism from his owner could stand it no longer, but flying to the top of the pen, he ran his head through some close meshed chicken wire and hung himself.

The old hen straightaway returned to her own back yard, but continues her crowing every morning although she was known to have done such an unladylike thing before.

Councilmen Curt Wilson and Dave Heck, a Republican and a Democrat, are our authority for this tale of the rooster who was not a good sport.

DOWNING TO BE HEARD NOV. 27
BY THE COURT

Argument Heard This Morning
in Damage Case of Dush
vs. Harbison-Walker Co

DECISION WILL COME LATER

Judge Bell held argument court this morning. The principal case argued was that of William F. Dush vs. the Harbison-Walker Refractories company. In this case Dush sued for damages for personal injuries received while at work in the stonach plant of the company. He was awarded a verdict of $2,500 and the company's attorneys promptly made a motion for a new trial. The argument was heard this morning and Judge Bell will render his decision later.

Judge Bell stated this morning that a final hearing would be given Bert Downing, the man who shot up the Curwensville bank and seriously injured Assistant Cashier Hoover, on Monday or Tuesday, Nov. 27th or 28th.

Downing entered a plea of guilty to attempted robbery of a National bank, carrying concealed deadly weapons and assault with intent to kill when arraigned at May term of court.

At that time his attorneys, Messrs. Cole and Hartwick, raised the question of his mental condition and asked that final disposition of his case be held up until a proper examination of the man could be made. Accordingly Dr. Mitchell the alienist in charge of the Warren Insane hospital was summoned to Clearfield and made a careful physical and mental examination of Downing and began an examination into his family history for the purpose of ascertaining if there was any predisposition to mental disorder, it appearing from the testimony in the case that Downing's father had died from paresis or other brain affection.

Dr. Mitchell has since been pursuing this examination and expects to have his report ready to submit to the court at the time specified.

A number of witnesses will be subpoenaed to testify to Downing's previous good character, and a strong effort will be made to have his sentence made as light as possible.

On the other hand Mr. Hoover now says that he was shot deliberately by Downing and not accidentally as first alleged. That instead of his having been shot when attempting to wrest the revolver out of the would be robbers hand that Downing shoved the gun right into his face and pulled the trigger deliberately, and it is likely that the bank people will object to any leniency being extended unless it is shown by the result of alienist Mitchell's examination that he is or was mentally deranged at the time of the attempted hold up.

Supposed to Have Been Exhausted
When Dogs Chased in Water

A fine big buck was drowned in the Phillipsburg water company's reservoir in Cold stream Friday afternoon. The deer had been chased into the water by dogs and on account of the construction of the reservoir and the cold water was unable to get out and met death by drowning. The deer was discovered by Joe Beam and Ralph Hess and hauled from the water, but was too far gone to recover. It was brought into Phillipsburg and when weighed tipped the scales at 100 pounds.

THAT LUCKY 13
New York, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—This is the thirteenth of November and the day on which California authorities start the official counting of votes which will finally decide who will get California's 13 electoral votes. The fact that President Wilson has copyrighted 13 as his lucky number and that Governor Hughes drew number 13 ballot on Tuesday gave Wilson a slight favor.HAIG ASSAULTS

Pursuing Bulgar Forces

BULGARIANS LOST HEAVILY

London, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—General Haig's forces struck another strong defensive blow at the Germans about Ancre today after thorough artillery preparation. The artillery took the Germans' position after a hard fought battle, the war office declared.

Continuing their pursuit of the retreating Bulgar forces which were driven from Polog on the Cerna front the Serbian troops have captured Ivan north of Polog. The fighting in this section is continuing, the official statement said. Bulgars are gaining ground but they fail to maintain their positions. The war office announcement said that the Serbian troops had driven the Teutonic-Bulgar forces from the village of Ivan and the French official statement said that the troops were falling back in disorder with the Serbs in pursuit. The Serbs have repulsed five counter attacks. The enemy losses were serious. The Serbs made further progress north of Velinios. Since September 12, the enemy lost 6,000 prisoners, 72 guns, and 50 machine guns.

The British forces dashing persistently forward have captured the villages of Benumont and Hamel just north of Ancre and West of Baupenne the object of the great English offensive.

Machinery and Frame Work of the Building to be Fully Protected

The owners of the Steel Plant find it necessary to put on a new roof to protect the machinery, and expect to have the same done soon. This information was handed to us this morning by one in authority and while it does not look like a big item of news, it can be considered significant from the fact that instead of allowing the remnant of the once buzzing industry to rust to the ground the present owners are going to fully protect the valuable machinery and keep it in such condition that it can be put to use at the first opportunity. The belief that there is some hope for revival of the industry is justified by the effort made to protect it.

MILK PRODUCERS
FORMING NEW ASSOCIATION

Twenty Prominent Farmers of
This Vicinity Met in Borough
Building Saturday Night

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The milk producers who supply the local fluid milk are organized in Clearfield consumers held a meeting in the borough building Saturday evening, which was attended by about twenty of our adjoining farmers. The meeting was called for the purpose of taking the necessary steps looking toward the foundation of a district organization. County Farm Agent Kearney was present and instructed those present on the mode of procedure. The idea is to band the producers together in a general organization in order that the producer may receive what is justly due him for his milk.

At present the retail price of milk in Clearfield is 9 cents per quart, and of this amount the producer receives 5 cents, the retailer taking the other 4 for his trouble in caring for and disposing of same.

After listening attentively to Farm Agent Kearney, who had already organized the DuBois district, a Committee on Constitution and by-laws was appointed to draft rules and regulations for the governing of the association. This Committee consists of Hon. Peter Gearhart, James Mitchell, Ed Henry and Mr. Kearney. They will report at a meeting to be held in the Farm Agent's office on Tuesday evening next, at which time a permanent organization will be effected.

The producers say it is not their intention to raise the price of milk to the consumer, but they feel the margin taken by the retailer is really more than he is entitled to when the producer only gets a little over half the price for producing the milk.

Stocks Farm With Ring Neck Pheasants

A. E. Leitzigner Proposes to Protect
Birds and Foster Propagation.

A. E. Leitzigner, who recently purchased the old McEnally farm adjoining his country place along the State road leading toward Clearfield, is endeavoring to stock the wood and farm with ring neck pheasants. In order that the birds may have a chance to propagate he has forbidden hunting and has posted trespass notices about the farm for the purpose of keeping hunters away. One day last week a hunter went onto the farm and shot one of the pheasants, which was a great loss to Leitzigner's flock. He now proposes to stand for this kind of business any longer and the hunter who goes poaching on the farm and shoots a pheasant of the Leitzigner's will have to pay the price for his trespass.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—In the face of returns tabulated unofficially in Washington to date the Republicans will have 218 votes for organization in the House of Representatives and the Democrats 216 with one lone socialist, Meyer London, unattached. This aligns with the Republicans in Minnesota as a Progressive with the Republicans, and Fuller from Massachusetts elected as Independent will be against the Republicans. Thus leaves Randall of California elected as a Prohibitionist though with Democratic support and Whitmartin, Progressive of Louisiana still to be placed.

To Protest Enforced Arbitration

Executive Committee Goes On Record With Strong
Resolutions at Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—Warning that union labor will oppose with all its power any attempt to put through congress compulsory arbitration bill, as proposed by President Wilson, was given today when the executive committee, of the American Federation of Labor, at the federation's 35th annual convention, read its report.

"The wage earners of the United States" said the report "will oppose any proposition to impose upon them compulsory institutions which disguise involuntary servitude. They hold that the principle involved in voluntary institutions is the key to personal and industrial freedom and that this principle is of more importance to them than any other consideration."

"The immediate problem involved is a mass protest but the principle involved in compulsory institutions, even for a day in our Republic, is of more importance to the whole Republic, for we know that the Republic cannot be maintained on a basis of part slave and part free."

In further and continuing labor action which will be a single hour of not laboring as temporary enforcement.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—California was expected today when the official count of votes in this state for President began in each of the 58 counties. The count will finally decide whether William F. Hughes will receive more votes than will be definitely decided. The official vote gives President Wilson a plurality of 1921. It is pointed out by Republican leaders that if one per cent of the total number of votes in each precinct are for Hughes it will give him a plurality of 1921—provided that no more votes were added to Wilson's plurality.

Extraordinary care is being exercised in the count of the votes and it is estimated that it will take more than a week before the work can be completed. Except in San Francisco and Los Angeles counties the count is in the hands of the election officials and in San Francisco and Los Angeles the count is in the hands of election commissioners.

We do not advise your using any solution if the cracks are so small that you think it would be more satisfactory to have them welded. The results of the use of cements and solutions have never proved satisfactory.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Return Board Reports Official Result In Clearfield County

Boulton Wins Out Over Reed With a Majority of 22 Votes While The County Gives Tobias 1035

CONTEST LIKELY IN THE CONGRESSIONAL

The official count of the vote cast at last Tuesday's election for member of congress and the legislature was completed by the returning board consisting of Judge Bell, Wm. H. Patterson, Jr., and Joseph R. Chase, this morning and is as follows:

Member of Congress
Charles H. Rowland, R. 5261
William E. Tobias, D. 6291

Member of Legislature
Joseph E. Phillips, R. & W. 5607
Harry Boulton, R. 5175
A. H. Woodward, R. 5079
Green W. Bell, D. 5302
Archer H. Reed, D. 5153
Ed. C. Bauman, D. 5034

There were eight soldier votes received so far and of these seven voted for Hughes and one for Wilson. The tickets prepared for the soldiers in the field made no provision for a straight ticket vote due entirely to the fact that it would have been a great deal of expense and trouble to print the names of district and county candidates on the ballot for the voters from the different counties. Under the ticket as prepared the Presidential electors were grouped and printed as well as the state tickets, but the voter was required to write in the name of the candidates for congress and legislature. The soldier boys were evidently poorly informed as to local conditions because but one of the state tickets was given. Mr. Rowland gained that one vote, while three voted for legislative candidates Joe Phillips being favored by all of them, while Woodward and Boulton got but two votes.

There are more than one hundred soldier votes yet to be recorded in this congressional district, seventy of these belonging to Major Theodore Boal's machine gun company from Boalsburg, Centre county, and the other thirty being members of Troop L. of Bellefonte.

Without this soldier vote Rowland leads Tobias about 57 votes in the district, and a contest is quite likely.

Republican Rooster Ends his Life While Democratic Biddy Cackles

The result of Tuesday's election had a peculiar effect on even the chickens down in the Fourth Ward, and the neighbors living along Dorey Street are led to believe that their self same chickens knew about the election but were greatly interested in the result, as the following facts would lead one to suppose. Leslie Hopper, who lives at the Corner of Dorey and Seventh streets, has a prized Orpington hen, which was on especially friendly terms with a big rooster belonging to Otis Knepp, who lives a few doors below Seventh street, on Dorey. The rooster and biddy were in each other's company, a great deal the last two weeks and attracted the attention of the women folks down that way with their daily chatter, which all now say was undoubtedly an argument on the respective merits of the rival candidates, for the Presidency, because on Thursday morning when all doubt as to who had been elected was settled by the news from California, Hopper's old hen beat it out of the pen and down came the biddy, to where Knepp's old rooster was lordling it over his two score wives. Biddy ran up to the rooster and after a few "cut, cut's" or chuckles in chicken dialect, flopped her wings and let out a crow which startled every occupant of the barn yard. This was followed by a second, and a third shrill cry of victory.

The old rooster which had no doubt imbibed his Republicanism from his owner could stand it no longer, but flying to the top of the pen, he ran his head through some close meshed chicken wire and hung himself.

The old hen straightaway returned to her own back yard, but continues her crowing every morning although she was known to have done such an unladylike thing before.

Councilmen Curt Wilson and Dave Heck, a Republican and a Democrat, are our authority for this tale of the rooster who was not a good sport.

Argument Heard This Morning in Damage Case of Dush vs. Harbison-Walker Co

DECISION WILL COME LATER

Judge Bell held argument court this morning. The principal case argued was that of William F. Dush vs. the Harbison-Walker Refractories company. In this case Dush sued for damages for personal injuries received while at work in the stonach plant of the company. He was awarded a verdict of $2,500 and the company's attorneys promptly made a motion for a new trial. The argument was heard this morning and Judge Bell will render his decision later.

Judge Bell stated this morning that a final hearing would be given Bert Downing, the man who shot up the Curwensville bank and seriously injured Assistant Cashier Hoover, on Monday or Tuesday, Nov. 27th or 28th.

Downing entered a plea of guilty to attempted robbery of a National bank, carrying concealed deadly weapons and assault with intent to kill when arraigned at May term of court.

At that time his attorneys, Messrs. Cole and Hartwick, raised the question of his mental condition and asked that final disposition of his case be held up until a proper examination of the man could be made. Accordingly Dr. Mitchell the alienist in charge of the Warren Insane hospital was summoned to Clearfield and made a careful physical and mental examination of Downing and began an examination into his family history for the purpose of ascertaining if there was any predisposition to mental disorder, it appearing from the testimony in the case that Downing's father had died from paresis or other brain affection.

Dr. Mitchell has since been pursuing this examination and expects to have his report ready to submit to the court at the time specified.

A number of witnesses will be subpoenaed to testify to Downing's previous good character, and a strong effort will be made to have his sentence made as light as possible.

On the other hand Mr. Hoover now says that he was shot deliberately by Downing and not accidentally as first alleged. That instead of his having been shot when attempting to wrest the revolver out of the would be robbers hand that Downing shoved the gun right into his face and pulled the trigger deliberately, and it is likely that the bank people will object to any leniency being extended unless it is shown by the result of alienist Mitchell's examination that he is or was mentally deranged at the time of the attempted hold up.

THAT LUCKY 13

New York, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—This is the thirteenth of November and the day on which California authorities start the official counting of votes which will finally decide who will get California's 13 electoral votes.

The fact that President Wilson has copyrighted 13 as his lucky number and that Governor Hughes drew number 13 ballot on Tuesday gave Wilson a slight favor.

HAIG ASSAULTS GERMANS NEAR ANCRE CITY

Serbian Troops Captured Ivan on the Cerna Front While Pursuing Bulgar Forces

BULGARIANS LOST HEAVILY

London, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—General Haig's forces struck another strong defensive blow at the Germans about Ancre today after thorough artillery preparation. The artillery took the Germans' position after a hard fought battle, the war office declared.

Continuing their pursuit of the retreating Bulgar forces which were driven from Polog on the Cerna front the Serbian troops have captured Ivan north of Polog. The fighting in this section is continuing, the official statement said. Bulgars are gaining ground but they fail to maintain their positions. The war office announcement said that the Serbian troops had driven the Teutonic-Bulgar forces from the village of Ivan and the French official statement said that the troops were falling back in disorder with the Serbs in pursuit. The Serbs have repulsed five counter attacks. The enemy losses were serious. The Serbs made further progress north of Velinios. Since September 12, the enemy lost 6,000 prisoners, 72 guns, and 50 machine guns.

The British forces dashing persistently forward have captured the villages of Benumont and Hamel just north of Ancre and West of Baupenne the object of the great English offensive.

New Roof Will Be Put On the Steel Plant

Machinery and Frame Work of the Building to be Fully Protected

The owners of the Steel Plant find it necessary to put on a new roof to protect the machinery, and expect to have the same done soon. This information was handed to us this morning by one in authority and while it does not look like a big item of news, it can be considered significant from the fact that instead of allowing the remnant of the once buzzing industry to rust to the ground the present owners are going to fully protect the valuable machinery and keep it in such condition that it can be put to use at the first opportunity. The belief that there is some hope for revival of the industry is justified by the effort made to protect it.

MILK PRODUCERS FORMING NEW ASSOCIATION

Twenty Prominent Farmers of This Vicinity Met in Borough Building Saturday Night

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

The milk producers who supply the local fluid milk are organized in Clearfield consumers held a meeting in the borough building Saturday evening, which was attended by about twenty of our adjoining farmers. The meeting was called for the purpose of taking the necessary steps looking toward the foundation of a district organization. County Farm Agent Kearney was present and instructed those present on the mode of procedure. The idea is to band the producers together in a general organization in order that the producer may receive what is justly due him for his milk.

At present the retail price of milk in Clearfield is 9 cents per quart, and of this amount the producer receives 5 cents, the retailer taking the other 4 for his trouble in caring for and disposing of same.

After listening attentively to Farm Agent Kearney, who had already organized the DuBois district, a Committee on Constitution and by-laws was appointed to draft rules and regulations for the governing of the association. This Committee consists of Hon. Peter Gearhart, James Mitchell, Ed Henry and Mr. Kearney. They will report at a meeting to be held in the Farm Agent's office on Tuesday evening next, at which time a permanent organization will be effected.

The producers say it is not their intention to raise the price of milk to the consumer, but they feel the margin taken by the retailer is really more than he is entitled to when the producer only gets a little over half the price for producing the milk.

Stocks Farm With Ring Neck Pheasants

A. E. Leitzinger Proposes to Protect Birds and Foster Propagation.

A. E. Leitzinger, who recently purchased the old McEnally farm adjoining his country place along the State road leading toward Clearfield, is endeavoring to stock the wood and farm with ring neck pheasants. In order that the birds may have a chance to propagate he has forbidden hunting and has posted trespass notices about the farm for the purpose of keeping hunters away. One day last week a hunter went onto the farm and shot one of the pheasants, which was a great loss to Leitzinger's flock. He wants to protect the birds and foster their propagation.

The immediate problem involved is a new proposition but the principle involved in compulsory institutions, even for a class in our Republic, is of course to the whole Republic, for we know that the Republic cannot be maintained on a basis of part free and part slave.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—In the face of returns tabulated unofficially in Washington to date the Republicans will have 218 votes for organization in the House of Representatives and the Democrats 216 with one lone socialist, Meyer London, unattached. This aligns with the Republicans in Minnesota as a Progressive with the Republicans, and Fuller from Massachusetts elected as Independent will be against the Republicans. Thus leaves Randall of California elected as a Prohibitionist though with Democratic support and Whitmartin, Progressive of Louisiana still to be placed.

American Federation of Labor To Protest Enforced Arbitration

Executive Committee Goes On Record With Strong Resolutions at Baltimore Convention.

Baltimore, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—Warning that union labor will oppose with all its power any attempt to put through congress compulsory arbitration bill, as proposed by President Wilson, was given today when the executive committee, of the American Federation of Labor, at the federation's 35th annual convention, read its report.

"The wage earners of the United States" said the report "will oppose any proposition to impose upon them compulsory institutions which disguise involuntary servitude. They hold that the principle involved in voluntary institutions is the key to personal and industrial freedom and that this principle is of more importance to them than any other consideration."

The immediate problem involved is a new proposition but the principle involved in compulsory institutions, even for a class in our Republic, is of course to the whole Republic, for we know that the Republic cannot be maintained on a basis of part free and part slave.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—(By United Press)—California was expected today when the official count of votes in this state for President began in each of the 58 counties. The count will finally decide whether William F. Hughes will receive more votes than will be definitely decided. The official vote gives President Wilson a plurality of 1921. It is pointed out by Republican leaders that if one per cent of the total number of votes in each precinct are for Hughes it will give him a plurality of 1921—provided that no more votes were added to Wilson's plurality.

Extraordinary care is being exercised in the count of the votes and it is estimated that it will take more than a week before the work can be completed. Except in San Francisco and Los Angeles counties the count is in the hands of the election officials and in San Francisco and Los Angeles the count is in the hands of election commissioners.

Miss Mary Wolf entertained a number of her girl friends at her home last Friday evening.

Misses Lizzie and Harriet Grouch, one time residents of Curwensville, spent part of Saturday and a part of Sunday with town friends. They now reside in Tyrone.

Yesterday was a day set apart by the Methodist as visiting day, and as the weather was fine, many took advantage of it, and called on friends of that denomination.

The spirit of basketball has taken a strong hold of a number of Curwensville lovers of that sport, and arrangements are being made for some games, shortly.

The Progress, through the Curwensville letter, was requested to ask Curwensville people to decorate with bunting and leave all store and house lights burning brightly on Tuesday evening.

Street Commissioner Strunk was engaged Saturday in removing the piles of dirt, etc., which had been gathered together during the week previous at the suggestion of the Civic Club.

A surprise was given to G. M. Clute on last Friday evening by a number of his friends, prior to his embarking on board a Salt river boat. The evening was spent in playing the game of 500 and in general sociability.

Both Hotels are circulating petitions for a renewal of license. The petitioners do not seem to have much trouble in securing the right sort of signatures and as many of them as is necessary to present the papers to the court.

On Friday evening, November 17th an entertainment will be given in the M. E. church. Miss Smith, of Pittsburgh, will be there for the purpose of entertaining all those who will be present. The event will be under the auspices of the Queen Esther Circle, hence should be well patronized.

The Progress representative has been requested to publish some items of unwritten history of Curwensville which occurred during the early days of the town. We will comply with the request and start the series some day this week by giving the history of the old chain bridge or that of the first distillery.

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

I have broken two crank shafts on my car in the past few months and in both instances was driving the car on a smooth road at about twenty miles per hour. Both shafts broke in the same place, just forward of the rear main bearing, and after taking the motor down I failed to find anything out of true either time. The bearings were fairly tight, and there was no lost motion to amount to anything anywhere. I drive with the spark advanced all it will bear without causing the engine to knock. Could it be possible that by giving the motor the gas too suddenly with the spark advanced all the way down while driving at a speed of twenty miles per hour would have anything to do with the crank shafts breaking?

Without seeing the crank shaft it is hard to pass upon the causes of your trouble. It is hardly possible that the trouble results from defective material, as it is unlikely that you would receive two shafts which were not up to standard in so short a period. Neither does it seem possible that the trouble could result from manipulation of the spark and throttle in the way you suggest.

Investigation will probably show that the trouble results from crystallization following operation in a motor in which insufficient oil has been used at some time. It may also be due to loose or improperly adjusted bearings or to some part of the motor being out of line. This condition could come from a continuous misfiring of the engine.

In tightening up the main bearings of a car I should think that when the strap is bolted on after the shims are removed the crank shaft would be sprung out of line. Is this so, and is there any way to overcome it?

Removal of shims does not change the alignment. The shaft presses against the top of the bearing in the same place with the strap loose or tightened by removing shims.

Can you give me the correct method of focusing the headlights on a car?

The method given below is about as simple as any, although there are many ways in which the job can be done. Locate the car forty feet from a wall, preferably white. Best results, of course, will follow if the adjusting is done at night. Throw the lights on to this wall and adjust them so that the circle of light from each lamp will be close to three feet in diameter and the edges of these circles will nearly touch. There should be a distance of about one and one-half feet from the ground to the lowest point of each circle.

The distinctive clink commonly known as a carbon knock developed in my motor, and I had the carbon burned out. This did not seem to improve matters very much, as the knock still occurs when the accelerator is depressed. Occasionally while on the street the knock ceases for a few seconds and then recommences without my having touched anything. The trouble is less pronounced when the motor is very hot, as after a stiff climb. What can be the cause of this? Also when running on first or second speed the gears make a terrible noise. At times, for no apparent reason, they can scarcely be heard. The trouble here seems to be connected with the engine trouble mentioned above, as the two occur at the same time. Can you tell me the reason for this?

It would seem from what you submit that the engine is misaligned in the frame or loose. At times the alignment may be correct, thus causing the gears to act silently, whereas at another time the engine may become dislocated, throwing everything out of line, causing the knock you speak of as well as the growl in the gears.

It is suggested that you look into the fastenings of the engine to see if any of the bolts have become loosened.

Does the injection of steam into the intake manifold from the water cooling system act effectively as a decarbonizer for motor car engines?

It is said to, although we have no records of accurate tests which would bear out the claim. There are several devices on the market to perform this act in motor car engines.

Reports of experiments tend to show that the injection of steam or water vapor into the cylinders does tend to loosen up carbon deposits and prevent the formation of carbon.

I have been told that it is helpful to the engine in removing carbon to get auxiliary air inlet of the carburetor, with the engine running fast enough to suck it up with the gas and then to pour water into the manifold or auxiliary air intake. It was claimed that the water, hitting the heated carbon, would crack it off. Is this so, and would the water hurt the heated engine parts in any way?

The water will not hurt the engine parts, neither will the kerosene, and both are useful in removing carbon. There is the danger of getting water or kerosene mixed with the lubricating oil, so in using this method of cleaning it is not a very safe one. It is not a very safe one to pour water into the manifold or auxiliary air intake. It is not a very safe one to pour water into the manifold or auxiliary air intake.

Will you please explain the workings of the thermo syphon system of water circulation, its advantages and disadvantages. Why is it not more universally used?

The thermo syphon system of water circulation consists of an outlet from the boiler, or through which water enters the cooled chambers around the cylinders at the bottom, becomes heated and rises, passing back through a pipe entering the radiator at the top. The action of the fan keeps the radiator cool, and this operation keeps up a constant circulation of water as long as the engine is hot. It may become clogged if sediment gathers in the radiator, but that would be almost, if not equally true, of a pump system. Some engine designers favor the pump system, especially if the engine is of the larger type, arguing that the pump is more positive in its action, even though less simple than the thermo-syphon. The thermo-syphon has been used more extensively in cars with small motors than on those having large displacement.

What is the function of the belts of rivets in the rear wheels of some cars? In some there is a bolt in every spoke, and in others one in every other spoke, and in others there is none at all.

The rivets are there to hold the spokes in place. In those where bolts are not visible the spokes are locked by internal bolts or pins.

Will you please tell me why the piston is larger in four cylinder cars than in six and eight cylinder cars and why they will develop more power than a four cylinder?

The reason that the bore of the four cylinder motor is in general larger than that of six and eight cylinder engines is simply because of the fact that more power than is necessary for the car is not desired. Every cylinder assembly acts as a separate engine in supplying power. The same amount of power can be obtained from six smaller cylinders as from four larger ones; hence to secure the desired amount of power with four cylinders it is natural that each of the cylinders should be made larger.

Looking at the matter from another angle, that of piston displacement, it will be remembered that displacement is a direct factor of power. If a displacement of, say, 300 cubic inches, is desired and if enough power will be secured from this displacement it would be obtained by using four cylinders of seventy-five cubic inch displacement or six cylinders, each having fifty cubic inch displacement. Naturally the pistons for the seventy-five cubic inch cylinder will be larger than those for the fifty cubic inch.

Can you advise me of any remedy for a howling in the rear axle of a new car? I understand there are some means of tapping the torsion tube which will stop this howling.

It is not advisable to tap the torsion tube, although this would cut down the resonance. In all probability as soon as the gears have worn in awhile this howling will stop.

Can you give me complete directions for removing scale and other deposits from the radiator of an automobile?

Scale can be removed from radiators by using a saturated solution of common washing soda and water. Thoroughly flush the radiator out with the solution, then clean with fresh, pure water. A mixture of ordinary washing soda in which four ounces are used to the gallon of water will do the work properly.

Does the spark in a magneto occur when the points are together or just breaking?

The spark does not occur until the instant that the points separate. It is the separation of the points which are in the low tension circuit that induces the current in the high tension circuit. Therefore no current is flowing to the high tension circuit until after the breaker points are separated.

The reason for the spark being set at upper dead center at full retard is that a later spark than this is never required. When the engine is turning over very slowly, requiring the latest possible spark, if the setting is such that it occurs on upper dead center the engine will not knock, because before the spark could have taken place and limited the gases the piston will have passed over the dead point and be again on its way down.

I have installed a motor driven tire pump on my car, and directions say to run the motor at 600 revolutions per minute. How is one to know when the motor is running at this speed?

Directions do not mean that the motor has to run at exactly this speed. The pump will work most efficiently if this speed is approximated. Set your motor so that it sounds about as it does when your car is running fifteen or twenty miles an hour, then run your pump.

Can you give me a method of sealing a frost crack in a cast water jacket? There is a double crack on the lower side with a single crack on the upper side extending horizontally along the center. The inside of the cylinder is not injured. Would you advise any solutions?

The best way to remedy a cracked cylinder is to have them welded by some one who is a good welder. There are a number of men in my city who are ready to do this at a very reasonable cost. We do not have a device for using any solutions in the cracks, so the best way to remedy the trouble would be to have them welded. The results of the use of cements and solutions have never proved satisfactory.

Four Hundred and Eighty Delegates Attend A. F. of L. Meet

Japan Sends Delegate to the Annual Convention For First Time in History of Nation.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 13.—Four hundred and eighty delegates, representing three million organized workers of the United States, responded to the roll-call at the opening session of the 36th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which was called to order by President Samuel Gompers in the Lyric theater shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. The convention is the largest congress of workmen ever held in this country.

Before the call to order the President summoned to seats on the stage the fraternal delegates representing the labor organizations of Canada, Gt. Britain and Japan. It was the first time the Japanese labor unions had sent a delegate to the American convention and the representative, B. Suzuki, of Tokyo, was enthusiastically applauded as he took his seat.

The gathering was opened with addresses of welcome by Governor Macgregor, Mayor Preston, and the heads of the Baltimore Labor unions, and appropriate responses were made by President Gompers and several of the delegates. These formalities over, Secretary Frank Morrison proceeded to read the call for the convention. This said in part:

"It is of course, entirely unnecessary here to enumerate all the important subjects with which our convention will concern itself, but the reminder is not at all amiss that every effort must be made to broaden the field and means for the organization of the yet unorganized workers, to strive to bring about more effectively than ever a better day in the lives and homes of the toilers, to defend and maintain by every honorable means in our power the right to organize for our common defense and advancement for the exercise of our normal and constitutional activities to protect and promote the rights and interests of the workers; and to assert at any risk the freedom of speech and of press and of equal rights before the law of every worker with every other citizen; to aid our fellow workers against the effort now being made by labor's enemies to entangle the workers in the meshes of litigation before the courts in the several States; to arouse our fellow workers and fellow citizens to the danger which threatens to curb or take away their guaranteed rights and freedom; the tremendous conflict now being waged in Europe and its possible consequences and results, not only upon the people of America, as well as on the whole civilized world, must of necessity receive the deepest solic-

BETTER THAN AN OIL

Thousands Have Discovered the Advantages of Olive Tablets as a Harshness Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of F. J. Edwards' determination to treat liver and bowel complaints calomel. His efforts to harness it brought out the little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do good that calomel does, but have no after effects. They don't injure the stomach like strong liquids or cathartics. They take hold of the trouble quickly correct it. Why cure the stomach at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the teeth. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and a lazy feeling come from constipation, a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "heavy," "brassy," "sour" or "flatulent." Note how they "clear" the system, how they "perk up" the appetite. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.
